

Gandhi in México

a Look at Nonviolence

A documentary by Sonia Deotto

August 27, 2014 - 3:30 p.m.

Tagore Hall, Dayare Mir Taqi Mir, Jamia Millia Islamia

A delegation from India headed by Shri Narayan Desai, one of Gandhi's last direct disciples, visits Mexico and encounters the spirit of the Mahatma alive in the efforts of individuals to achieve genuine transformation of their country.

Gandhi would have recognized their work as part of his Constructive Programme, a framework for non-violent action that shaped the struggle of the Indian people for freedom from British rule and that may serve as a means for Mexicans to counter the violence that threatens to disrupt the fabric of the country.

Producers: Gujarat Vidyapith (University founded by Mahatma Gandhi in 1920), OraWorldMandala and TV UNAM, the tv channel of the National University of Mexico

Centre for European and Latin American Studies
Jamia Millia Islamia

