Espido Freire (Spain) &
Sonia Serrano (Portugal)

SONIA SERRANO (Portugal) has curated a number of exhibitions on travel writing and on women, and she also writes poetry. Her book, Women Travellers, was published in 2014. She has also taught short-term courses on travel literature. ESPIDO FREIRE (Spain) published her first novel, Irlanda, when she was 23. Her subsequent novels have won many awards, and her work spans many genres: she has written on fairy-tales and love icons, on bulimia, etc. She writes for newspapers and magazines, radio and television and is considered to be one of the more interesting voices in the Spanish literary field.
