Radio taxi, normal taxi and auto rickshaws are always available from all the three locations for going anywhere in Delhi. Bus No. 402 and 403 runs between Delhi railway station and Okhla and Bus No. 894 is always available at Paharganj side of New Delhi railway station to reach the venue of conference.

Delhi and its weather in December

New Delhi, the capital of India, with an area of 1483 square kilometre, stands at the northern part of India attracting the tourists from across the globe to see its rich historical legacy and culture. The month of December experiences average temperatures around 12-13 °C (54-55 °F). Although winters are generally mild, Delhi's proximity to the Himalayas results in cold waves leading to lower apparent temperature due to wind chill.

Tourist Spots in and around Delhi

Delhi is a historical city, telling its own history of about 500 years through its various monuments, museum, parks, historical remains etc. such as Red Fort, Qutub Minar, Jama Masjid, Chandni Chowk, Lotus Temple, Akshar Dham Temple, Jantar Mantar, Humayun's Tomb, Shrines of Sufi Saints like Hazrat Nizamuddin auliya (pbuh) and Khawaj Bakhtiyar Kaki (pbuh), and many more. The nearby important tourist spots are Taj Mahal and Buland Darwaza (Agra), Shimla - a hill station (Himachal Pradesh), Nainital and Mussoorie (U.P). The city of Jaipur and Chandigarh are also near to Delhi.
