

THIRD RESEARCH SCHOLARS SEMINAR

on

STATE AND DEVELOPMENT IN CONTEMPORARY INDIA

Venue: Conference Hall, Centre for Jawaharlal Nehru Studies

Date: 29th March 2017

Organised by:

Subject Association, Centre for Jawaharlal Nehru Studies,
Gate No: 19, Noam Chomsky Complex, Jamia Millia Islamia
New Delhi

***ALL ARE WELCOME*****

[Handwritten signature]
24/3/17

THIRD RESEARCH SCHOLARS SEMINAR STATE AND DEVELOPMENT IN CONTEMPORARY INDIA

Venue: Conference Hall, Centre for Jawaharlal Nehru Studies

Date: 29th March 2017

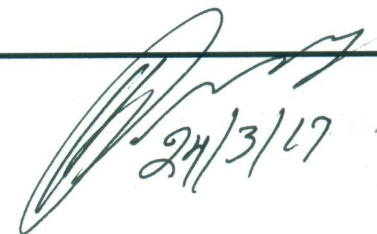

Time: 09:30am-05:30pm

Concept Note: The on-going development discourse shapes our ideas about the world, knowledge and values. The present discourse on the state seems to be determined by the closely related ideas of development. World is witnessing rapid social, economic and political transformations that offer challenges and possibilities to various institutions involved. It is instructive to map the shifting nature of role of the state in development and vice-versa. In this context, it is pertinent to deliberate on these issues which concern everybody irrespective of the location. The objective of the present seminar is to bring together diverse and comparative perspectives related to:

- Changing Political Dimensions in Contemporary India
- Environment and Development
- Gender and Development
- Inclusive Policy and Development
- Migration in India
- Political Power and Marginalisation
- Socio-Cultural issues in Contemporary India

Organised by:

Subject Association, Centre for Jawaharlal Nehru Studies,
Gate No: 19, Noam Chomsky Complex, Jamia Millia Islamia
New Delhi

24/3/17