Enhancing the beauty with artistic arrangement of flowers is known as flower arrangement. Flower arrangements are an important part of the ambience on any occasion, weddings, birthdays, parties or any other events in life and just like any other art form, has evolved with time.

The flowers have always been considered as a beautiful creation of nature, which can boost the mental energy of the people, as they become mentally satisfied and cheerful on seeing the colorful flowers and smelling the sweet scent of these blooms. Placing some flowers in the home or even in the workplace has proved to be beneficial for keeping the people in good mood throughout the day. Flowers organised and grouped together along with plant materials (flowers, foliage, twigs, etc.) to achieve harmony of form, colour, and texture, add cheer, life, and beauty to the surroundings. Flowers are used for decorating various areas in the hotel like restaurants, reception area, lobby area, rooms etc. They provide a cheerful appearance and color to the room. Flower arrangements have an ability to introduce a personal touch in an impersonal hotel room.

In yet another initiative of Department of Tourism and Hospitality Management introduced the students to the basics of this wonderful art . They learnt the basic of flowers arrangement , various types of flowers, their conditioning, key points to be considered during arranging the flowers along with the various material used. The demonstration included the assembling of round arrangement, S shaped arrangement and triangular arrangement. It was a wonderful and enriching session which gave the students an insight into the basics.

Flower arranging has come a long way from the early periods and has not remain untouched by the evolving technology. Thanks to the thousands of flower hybrids and growing techniques, flowers that used to be only available in season are now available all year round. Materials like Floral Foam, shaping wire, and individual water phials give us unlimited ways to create beautiful floral arrangements that can last longer than ever before.
