

Two Week Research Methodology Workshop in Environmental Economics

To be organized by

Department of Economics, Jamia Millia Islamia, New Delhi

As a part of UGC DRS-II under UGC Special Assistance Programme

Dates: 15-28 September, 2016

Environmental economics is an important branch in economics, which finds utility in almost all areas of sciences, engineering, management and social sciences. The environmental economic challenges are in the form of rising consumption and demand for energy, increase in the greenhouse gas emissions, and constraints on critical natural resources such as land, water, and biodiversity. World needs to find a way to ensure that the development does not take place at the cost of the environment.

To understand and deliberate upon issues related to environment, Department of Economics, Jamia Millia Islamia, New Delhi is organizing a research methodology workshop in environmental economics during 15-28 September, 2016. The purpose of this research methodology workshop is to introduce a strong foundation in research conceptualization, design, data collection, data management, statistical analysis and reporting in economics, specifically in environmental economics.
